<http://www.pelly.ca/about/the-pelly-coffee-pot.html>

Dan was a single guy living at home with his father and working in the family business.

He toiled at it for years, until finally his father was on his deathbed -- Dan would inherit a fortune! He decided he needed a wife with which to share the vast estate.

One evening at an investment meeting he spotted the most beautiful woman he had ever seen.

Her natural beauty took his breath away. "I may look like just an ordinary man," he said to her, "but in just a few weeks, my father will die, and I'll inherit 100 million dollars."

Impressed, the woman accepted his business card. And just three short days later, she became his stepmother.

Women are so much better at estate planning than men.

My husband and I took our two-year-old daughter to the home-improvement store.

Madison got tired of walking, so my husband let her ride on his shoulders. As he walked, Madison began pulling his hair. Although he asked her to stop several times, she kept on.

Getting annoyed, he scolded, "Madison! Stop that!"

"But, Daddy," she replied, "I'm just trying to get my gum back."

"Hard work spotlights the character of people: some turn up their sleeves, some turn up their noses, and some don't turn up at all."

A couple had been married for 45 years and had raised a brood of 11 children and were blessed with 22 grandchildren. When asked the secret for staying together all that time, the wife replies, "Many years ago we made a promise to each other: the first one to pack up and leave has to take all the kids."

A young woman wasn't feeling well, and asked one her co-workers to recommend a physician. "I know a great one in the city, but he is very expensive. Five hundred dollars for the first visit, and one hundred dollars for each one after that." The woman went to the doctor's office and, trying to save a little money, cheerily announced. "I'm back!" Not fooled for a second, the doctor quickly examined her and said, "Very good, just continue the treatment I prescribed on your last visit."

A married couple were asleep when the phone rang at 2 AM, the wife (undoubtedly blonde), picked up the phone, listened a moment and said, "How should I know, that's 200 miles from here?" and hung up. The husband said, "Who was that?" The wife said, "I don't know, some woman wanting to know "if the coast is clear."

An 80 year old man is having his annual checkup at his doctor's office. He says to the doctor, "I've never felt better in my whole life. In fact, I have a 20 year old bride who's pregnant and having my child. What do you think of that !!!" The doctor thinks for a second and then says, "Let me tell you a story. I know this guy who's an avid hunter. He never misses a hunting season. But one day he's in a hurry to go hunting and he accidentally grabs his umbrella instead of his rifle. So he's in the woods and suddenly a giant grizzly bear appears out of nowhere. He raises his umbrella, points at the bear, squeezes the handle and the bear drops dead in front of him. What do you think of that?" The old man says, "That's impossible. Someone else must have shot that bear!" "EXACTLY" says the doctor.

The U.S. Electoral College is the body of elected officials who actually vote for the president of the United States. The writers of the Constitution developed the concept of an indirect presidential election to make sure that every state, whether large or small, has proportional representation in the presidential election. A presidential candidate thus needs support throughout the country to win.

Bonus Fact:

In most states, the Electoral College works on a "winner-take-all" system: the candidate with the most votes in the state gets all of that state's electoral votes. The only two states that differ are Maine and Nebraska, which choose two electors by the statewide popular vote and the rest by the vote in each Congressional district.

Four times in American history a presidential candidate has won by electoral votes but not by the popular vote. The most recent instance is in the 2000 election between George Bush and Al Gore.

They continue walking and they see a sign: "Contest for the strongest man in the world." "I'm entering," says Superman. After half an hour he returns and they ask him, "How did you make out?" " First Place ," answers Superman. "Did you ever doubt?" They continue walking when they see a sign: "Contest! Who is the greatest liar in the world?" Pinocchio says "I entering." After half an hour he returns with tears in his eyes. "What happened?" they asked Answers Pinocchio. "Who the hell is MITT ROMNEY?"

One day, a blonde was shopping for some shoes. As she picked up a nice pair, she saw the price... $100. She called over the store clerk and demanded that the store lower the price of shoes! The clerk rejected, and then added "if you don't like our shoe price, then get alligator shoes somewhere else! The blonde left, furious! Later that day, as the store clerk was driving home, he passed by a swamp and saw the blonde there. He stopped his car and watched her. Amazingly, the blonde saw an alligator, shot it perfectly in the heart and dragged near 10 dead alligators. She turned this alligator over and screamed, "Dang it! This one doesn't have any shoes either!"

A police officer stops a blonde for speeding and asks her very nicely if he could see her license. She replied in a huff, "I wish you guys could get your act together. Just yesterday you take away my license and then today you expect me to show it to you."
