Pelly Coffee Pot

Building Security has notified us that there have been 5 suspected terrorists working at our office. Four of the five have been apprehended. Bin Sleeping, Bin Loafing, Bin Gossiping, and Bin Surfing have been taken into custody. Security advised us that they could find no one fitting the description of the fifth cell member, Bin Working, in the office. Police are confident that anyone who looks like Bin Working will be very easy to spot. They thought they had apprehended Bin Working sitting at a desk, but it was actually Bin Surfing trying to impersonate Bin Working.

The Substitute Teacher

Walking through the hallways at the middle school where I work, I saw a new substitute teacher standing outside his classroom with his forehead against a locker. I heard him mutter, "How did you get yourself into this?" Knowing that he was assigned to a difficult class, I tried to offer moral support. "Are you okay?" I asked. "Can I help?" He lifted his head and replied, "I'll be fine as soon as I get this kid out of his locker."

During highway driving running the AC doesn't make much of a difference. There would be no savings from turning off the air conditioning because opening the windows would create drag, reducing the car's normal gas mileage.

A family of skunks was trapped in a thicket, surrounded by a pack of hungry wolves that were edging even closer. The Mother skunk calmly instructed her young: "Quickly children, let's put our heads together!" After they obeyed, forming a circle, she continued, "Now—Let us spray!"

Procrastinator's Creed
You may wish to delay reading this until you have more free time.

1. I believe that if anything is worth doing, it would have been done already.
2. I shall never move quickly, except to avoid more work or find excuses.
3. I will never rush into a job without a lifetime of consideration.
4. I shall meet all of my deadlines directly in propoation to the amount of bodily injury I could expect to recieve from missing them.
5. I firmly believe that tomorrow holds the possiblity for new technologies, astounding discoveries, and a reprieve from my obligations.
6. I truly believe that all deadlines are unreasonable regardless of the amount of time given.
7. If at first I don't succeed, there is always next year.
8. I shall always decide not to decide, unless of course I decide to change my mind.
9. I shall always begin, start, initiate, take the first step, and/or write the first word, when I get around to it.
10. I will never put off tomorrow, what I can forget about forever.

Jake had proposed to young Gina and was being interviewed by his prospective father-in-law. "Do you think you are earning enough to support a family?" the older man asked the suitor. "Yes, sir," replied Jake, "I'm sure I am." "Think carefully now," said Gina's father. "There are twelve of us..."

Today's Random Facts:
Sugar makes kids go crazy?

The Journal of the American Medical Association published a review of 23 studies on the subject of kids and sugar, the conclusion: Sugar doesn't affect behavior. And it's possible that it is the idea itself that is so ingrained as fact that it affects our perception.

Cholesterol in eggs is bad for the heart.? The perceived association between dietary cholesterol and risk for coronary heart disease stems from dietary recommendations proposed in the 1960s that had little scientific evidence, other than the known association between saturated fat and cholesterol and animal studies where cholesterol was fed in amounts far exceeding normal intakes. Since then, study after study has found that dietary cholesterol (the cholesterol found in food) does not negatively raise your body's cholesterol. It is the consumption of saturated fat that is the demon here. So eat eggs, don't eat steak.

Haunted French pancakes give me the crepes.

Want a notice put on the Highway sign - Drop it off with Audrey and she will see that is put up.

Tired of her mother-in-law constantly offering advice on child rearing, the young wife said, "Don't tell me how to raise my children. I live with one of yours and he still needs a lot of work!"

"The New York City Department of Education says that only 26 percent of the city's students passed the English portion on a recent standardized test. But on the bright side, they're too bad at math to realize how bad that is."

In my day, we didn't have hand-held calculators. We had to do addition on our fingers. To subtract, we had to have some fingers amputated.

God Will Provide

The torrential rain was unrelenting, and the town was evacuated when it became clear the dam couldn't hold back the waters for much longer.

As flood waters rise, a very religious woman put all her faith in God and won't leave her house. She says to all, "God will take care of me."

When local authorities come by in 4-wheel drive vehicles, going house to house, telling everyone to get out and rescuing those who need it, she says "God will provide," and refuses to leave.

Later, as the waters have risen significantly and surround the homes, the authorities come back in a boat. Again, they offer to rescue her. "God will provide!" she says, shoing them away.

Finally, the water floods her whole house, so she climbs onto the roof. A rescue helicopter comes by, but again, she refuses to get on, saying "God will provide."

Sadly, the woman is drowned in the flood and, when she gets up to heaven, she complains to God, "I had faith in you! I thought you would save me!"

"What are you talking about?" God says. "I sent you a Jeep, a boat, and a helicopter!"

Quotes From 1957

- If cigarettes keep going up in price, I'm going to quit. A quarter a pack is outrageous.
- If they raise the minimum wage to $1, nobody will be able to hire help at the store.
- Kids today are impossible. Those duck tail hair cuts make it impossible to stay groomed. Next thing you know, boys will be wearing their hair as long as the girls.
- I'm afraid to send my kids to the movies any more. Ever since they let Clark Gable get by with saying 'damn' in Gone With The Wind, it seems every new movie has either "hell" or "damn" in it.
- I'll tell you one thing, if things keep going the way they are, it's going to be impossible to buy a weeks groceries for $20.
- Have you seen the new cars coming out next year? It won't be long when $5,000 will only buy a used one.
- Did you hear the post office is thinking about charging a dime just to mail a letter?
- I never thought I'd see the day all our kitchen appliances would be electric. They are even making electric typewriters now.
- When I first started driving, who would have thought gas would someday cost 29 cents a gallon. Guess we'd be better off leaving the car in the garage.
- I read the other day where some scientist thinks it's possible to put a man on the moon by the end of the of the century. They even have some fellows they call astronauts preparing for it down in Texas.
- Did you see where some baseball player just signed a contract for $75,000 a year just to play ball? It wouldn't surprise me if someday they'll be making more than the president.
- It's too bad things are so tough nowadays. I see where some married women are having to work to make ends meet.
- It won't be long before young couples are going to have to hire someone to watch their kids so they can both work.
- Marriage doesn't mean a thing any more, those Hollywood stars seem to be getting divorced at the drop of a hat.
- I'm just afraid the Volkswagen car is going to open the door to a whole lot of foreign business.
- Thank goodness I won't live to see the day when the Government takes half our income in taxes.
- I sometimes wonder if we are electing the best people to parliament .

A father and son went fishing one day. After a couple hours in the boat, the boy suddenly became curious about the world around him.

He asked his father, "How does this boat float?"

The father thought for a moment, then replied, "Don't rightly know, son."

The boy returned to his contemplation, then turned back to his father, "How do fish breathe underwater?"

Once again the father replied, "Don't rightly know, son."

A little later the boy asked his father, "Why is the sky blue?"

Again, the father replied. "Don't rightly know, son."

Worried he was going to annoy his father, he says, "Dad, do you mind my asking you all of these questions?"

"Of course not, son. If you don't ask questions, you'll never learn anything!"

People seldom do what they believe in, they do what is convenient, and then repent. - Bob Dylan

Trouble in a marriage often starts when a man is so busy earning his salt that he forgets his sugar!

"Health is not valued till sickness comes."

Humans shed about 600,000 particles of skin every hour. That works out to about 1.5 pounds each year, so the average person will lose around 105 pounds of skin by age 70.

Farmer's Almanac 2014 Weather

In Canada, we expect more of a hodgepodge of winter weather. Expect above-normal temperatures in the eastern half, while the west will be below normal from southernmost British Columbia eastward through western Ontario and from Montreal eastward to the Atlantic.

Key factors that influenced our predictions include a decline in solar activity combined with changes in ocean-atmosphere patterns in the Pacific and Atlantic.

Three drunks hailed a taxi. The taxi driver seeing that they were so wasted when they got in, he just switched on the engine and switched it off, and said we are here. The 1st guy gave him money, 2nd guy said thanks, but the 3rd guy slapped him. The taxi driver was stunned because he was hoping that none of them would have realized the car didn't move an inch. So what was that for, he asked. Control your speed next time, you almost killed us.

Paying alimony is like feeding hay to a dead horse.

Lemons contain more sugar than strawberries.

Did you know that during a lifetime the average person eats about 35 tonnes of food.
