In the future, after man learned how to package knowledge in pill form, a student entered a pharmacy and ordered "general knowledge." The pharmacist handed him pills for English literature, history, biology, art, and geography. He swallowed them and instantly had vast knowledge on each subject. "But what about a pill for math?" The pharmacist handed him a huge pill. "But why is that pill so large?" The pharmacist replied, "Son, math is always a hard to swallow!"

A high school class was discussing the pope's funeral. One student asked, "How do they choose the next pope?" The teacher explained, "The cardinals pick him." From the back of class a voice asked, "What's a baseball team have to do with it?"

Morris, an 82-year-old man, went to the doctor to get a physical. A few days later the doctor saw Morris walking down the street with a gorgeous young lady on his arm. A couple of days later, the doctor spoke to Morris and said, "You're really doing great, aren't you?" Morris replied, "Just doing what you said, Doctor, 'Get a hot mamma and be cheerful.'" The doctor said, "I didn't say that. I said you got a heart mummer and be careful."

Dieting Rules

If you eat something and no one sees you eat it, it has no calories.

If you drink a diet soda with a candy bar, the calories in the candy bar are canceled out by the diet soda.

When you eat with someone else, calories don't count if you don't eat more than they do.

Food used for medicinal purposes NEVER counts, such as hot chocolate, brandy, toast and Sara Lee Cheesecake.

If you fatten up everyone else around you, then you look thinner.

Movie-related foods (Milk Duds, buttered popcorn, Junior Mints, Red Hots, Tootsie Rolls, etc.) do not have additional calories because they are part of the entertainment package and not part of one's personal fuel.

Cookie pieces contain no calories — the process of breaking causes calorie leakage.

Things licked off knives and spoons have no calories if you are in the process of preparing something. Examples are peanut butter on a knife making a sandwich and ice cream on a spoon making a sundae.

Foods that have the same colour have the same number of calories. Examples are: spinach and pistachio
