

Pelly Coffee Pot

Year 7 #22

Jun 27/16

A police officer attempts to stop a car for speeding and the guy gradually increases his speed until he's topping 100 mph. He eventually realizes he can't escape and finally pulls over. The cop approaches the car and says, "It's been a long day and my tour is almost over, so if you can give me a good excuse for your behaviour, I'll let you go." The guy thinks for a few seconds and then says, "My wife ran away with a cop about a week ago. I thought you might be that officer trying to give her back!"

Seen on People's Bumpers

- Sarcasm is just one more service we offer.
- Whisper my favourite words: "I'll buy it for you."
- Suburbia: where they tear out the trees & then name streets after them.
- Stress is when you wake up screaming & you realize you haven't fallen asleep yet.
- Adults are just kids who owe money.
- Who are these kids and why are they calling me Mom?
- I pretend to work. They pretend to pay me.
- You! Off my planet!
- Errors have been made. Others will be blamed.
- I majored in liberal arts. Would you like fries with that?

Dandelions can be used to produce rubber. Car tires made from dandelions are in development.

A small-scale trial by a U.S. research team found the dandelions delivered per-hectare rubber yields on a par with the best rubber-tree plantations in tropical Asia.

Our nails grow at 0.1 mm per day. It takes about three months to replace one entire fingernail.

The origin of the phrase 'a taste of your own medicine' comes from Aesop's famous story about a swindler who sells fake medicine, claiming that it can cure anything. When he falls ill, people give him his own medicine, which he knows will not work.

Making a Deal
After God had created Adam he noticed that he looked very lonely. He decided to help.

He said, "Adam, I've decided to make you a woman. She'll love you, cook for you, be sweet to you, and understand you."

Adam said "Great! How much will she cost me?"

The answer came back, "An arm and a leg."

"Well," said Adam "what can I get for a rib?"

Texting acronyms can stump even the best parents:

Mom: Your great-aunt just passed away. LOL.

Son: Why is that funny?

Mom: It's not funny, David! What do you mean?

Son: Mom, LOL means Laughing Out Loud.

Mom: I thought it meant Lots of Love. I have to call everyone back.

If one of your grandparents are Irish, you could claim Irish citizenship no matter where you live or born without knowing anything about Ireland.

The Scottish national animal is the unicorn because it was deemed the enemy of the lion, the English national animal.

Once upon a time in their marriage, my Dad did something really stupid. My Mom chewed him out for it. He apologized, they made up. However, from time to time, my mom mentions what he had done. "Honey," my Dad finally said one day, "why do you keep bringing that up? I thought your policy was 'forgive and forget.'" "It is," she said. "I just don't want you to forget that I've forgiven and forgotten."

Two blondes were filling up at a gas station. One blonde said, "I sure hope gas prices don't go up again." The other blonde replied, "Oh, that doesn't matter to me. I always just put in twenty bucks worth!"

Since Mr. Johnson rarely attended church, the new preacher visited him to invite him to attend services. Johnson, who made a fine peach brandy, told the preacher he would come -- but only if the pastor would drink a glass of his home-made brandy and then admit doing so in front of his congregation.

The preacher thought a moment and then agreed. They drank up. The next Sunday, Johnson was in the front row when the preacher said, "I'd like to recognize Mr. Johnson for worshipping with us this morning and thank him publicly for his hospitality, especially for the peaches he gave me ...and the spirit in which they were given!"

Seeking a new secretary, the boss was excited to see a hot blonde appear for an interview. He began by asking about her personality. "If you could have a conversation with anyone, living or dead, who would it be?" She blinked and replied, "Uh, I guess the living one."

A man wrote a letter to the IRS: "I have been unable to sleep knowing that I have cheated on my income tax. I understated my taxable income and have enclosed a check for $200.00. If I still can't sleep, I will send the rest."

175 people are needed to assemble the approximate 500 tons of equipment for the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus -- the "Biggest Show on Earth."

A newcomer to the political scene was campaigning in Amish country for the office of assemblyman. Outside an Amish homestead, he saw a young man and his sheep. He approached the man, ready to make his pitch for a vote. Just as he was getting started, an old man called from inside the house. "Luke, get in the house. And who is that guy you're talking to?" "Says he's a politician, Pop," Luke said. "In that case, you'd better bring the sheep inside with you."

It's frustrating when you know all the answers but nobody bothers to ask you the questions.

Wisdom comes with age, but sometimes age comes alone.

Great Truths That Adults Have Learned

- 1) Raising teenagers is like nailing jelly to a tree.
- 2) Wrinkles don't hurt.
- 3) Families are like fudge...mostly sweet, with a few nuts
- 4) Today's mighty oak is just yesterday's nut that held its ground.
- 5) Laughing is good exercise. It's like jogging on the inside..
- 6) Middle age is when you choose your cereal for the fibre, not the toy.

GREAT TRUTHS THAT LITTLE CHILDREN HAVE LEARNED:

- 1) No matter how hard you try, you can't baptize cats.
- 2) When your Mom is mad at your Dad, don't let her brush your hair.
- 3) If your sister hits you, don't hit her back. They always catch the second person.
- 4) Never ask your 3-year old brother to hold a tomato.
- 5) You can't trust dogs to watch your food.
- 6) Don't sneeze when someone is cutting your hair.
- 7) Never hold a Dust-Buster and a cat at the same time.
- 8) You can't hide a piece of broccoli in a glass of milk.
- 9) Don't wear polka-dot underwear under white shorts.
- 10) The best place to be when you're sad is Grandpa's lap.

"I don't understand what men see in golf." "Me, neither. I only went golfing with my ex- one time and he made me quit after one hole!" "What upset him?" "He said I asked too many questions!" "Well, you were probably just trying to understand the game. What did you ask?" "All I asked was: 'Why'd you hit the ball into that lake?' "

Never ask a woman eating ice cream straight from the carton how she's doing.

The young boy was spending a Sunday afternoon with his grandpa. Looking at pictures of his grandpa in his military uniform, the boy asked, "Grandpa, did you ever kill anyone in the war?"

"No champ, I never did."

"That's a good thing."

"You're telling me," began grandpa, "I was the cook!"

I couldn't decide whether to go to Salt Lake City or Denver for vacation, so I called the airlines to get prices. "Airfare to Denver is $300," the cheery salesperson replied.

"And what about Salt Lake City?"

"We have a really great rate to Salt Lake—$99," she said "but there is a stopover."

"Where?"

"In Denver," she said.

Of all the names of the seven days of the week, none are named "Tomorrow".

"We must all suffer one of two things: the pain of discipline or the pain of regret or disappointment."

Surviving all dangers, a wild cobra may live up to 20 years.
